

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

SEP 25 2014

To the Members of the California State Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill 2337 without my signature.

This bill extends the driver license revocation period from one to two years for a driver in a collision resulting in injury or death who leaves the scene.

Currently, penalties for serious hit-and-run collisions can include incarceration for an extended period, fines including penalty assessments up to $41,131, and restitution. Moreover, conditions of parole and probation can be imposed to prohibit driving.

While I consider hit-and-run collisions to be very significant events, current penalties seem to be at appropriate levels.

Sincerely,

Edmund G. Brown Jr.